

Hyalofemme®

Vaginal gel is colourless and odourless, improves the moisture balance, increases lubrication, accelerates wound healing by hyaluronic acid. Free of hormones.

Properties: The active substance of Hyalofemme® is a biocompatible substance: hyaluronic acid, which is also used in cosmetics, in the treatment of burns and knee-joint problems. Hyalofemme® reactivates and regenerates the skin of the vaginal wall.

Applications: Hyalofemme is a transparent gel which can be used as a complementary treatment for vaginal dryness caused by a variety of factors. It was developed specially for women whose moisture levels of the vaginal epithelium are inadequately balanced and who therefore have a tendency to itching, inflammation and bacterial infections. This delicate balance can be altered or disturbed for example

- after childbirth
- during breast-feeding
- during the menopause of women who are not taking any hormone preparations
- as a side effect of chemotherapy
- during times of stress
